

VOLUNTEER IAA

www.iaaonline.net

The Indiana Apartment Association's committees and clubs are some of the most productive tools we have to ensure that we remain one of the country's most effective apartment associations. Committee members face the challenge of getting involved and working toward achieving the goals of each committee.

One of the general responsibilities as a committee member is the commitment to attend all meetings and be actively involved. Below are descriptions of available committees. Contact IAA at (317) 816-8900 if you have questions, or email the departments listed below.

CONVENTION / TRADE SHOW COMMITTEE

email Mary Ellen Perin, maryellen@iaaonline.net

The Convention/Trade Show Committee meets 8 times a year, concluding in October. Committee members will be involved in planning the Midwest Multifamily Exposition & Education Conference and work during the conference – duties include assisting with trade show booth sales and soliciting/collecting door prizes during the trade show.

EDUCATION / CONVENTION SEMINARS COMMITTEE

email Mary Ellen Perin, maryellen@iaaonline.net

This committee meets 5 to 6 times each year. Committee members will assist in determining topics, as well as facilities and speakers for seminars and Morning Motivators.

GOLF COMMITTEE

email Mary Ellen Perin, Maryellen@iaaonline.net

The Golf Committee meets 5 times a year starting in March, concluding in June. Members help plan the annual PAC Golf Outing. Duties include assisting with soliciting sponsorships and door prizes, as well as work during the golf outing.

FUN MEETING COMMITTEE

email Letti O'Neill, letti@iaaonline.net

IAA hosts three "FUN" Meetings every year. These are after-hours networking events that always draw literally hundreds of members. The FUN Meeting Committee meets 6 times a year and will help decide themes, locations, entertainment and menus for the FUN Meetings, help plan each one and be available to work during the events. Committee members will also assist in soliciting sponsorships and door prizes.

YPM – YOUNG PROFESSIONALS IN MULTIFAMILY

email Mary Ellen Perin, maryellen@iaaonline.net

IAA hosts 4 after-hours events each year for the Young Professionals in Multifamily (YPM). The YPM events are geared toward the future leaders of our industry, allowing them to learn what IAA has to offer and encourage them to become active by attending classes, events, and joining committees. It is also a great opportunity for them to network with other young professionals in multifamily housing. The YPM Committee meets 6-8 times a year and helps secure sponsors, increase attendance, oversee mentoring, and help with event locations.

Membership Committee

email Letti O'Neill, letti@iaaonline.net

IAA is a membership organization and the Membership Committee assists in some of the most important functions of the Association. This Committee meets 6-8 times a year. Members will work on retaining members, as well as recruiting new associate and regular members. Responsibilities include contacting and making visits to prospective members to encourage them to join IAA, as well as contacting members to obtain feedback regarding programs, events and activities.
